FOREWORD

One day I happened to notice Charles W. Eliot's description of personality—a much-spoken-of-topic which is often misunderstood.

“Everyone now believes that there is in a man an animating, ruling, characteristic essence, or spirit, which is himself. This spirit, dull or bright, petty or grand, pure or foul, looks out of the eyes, sounds in the voice and appears in the manners of each individual. It is what we call personality.”

Books have personalities too. Some seem dull, downcast, while others are cheerful and bring happiness. This has been the desire of the 1940 Cedars staff—to publish a book full of cheer and bring happiness through cherished memories of high school days.

And so the Cedars, published by the class of '40, has been packed with snapshots, write-ups, and pictures of all phases of school life.

ROBERT F. LONG.

DEDICATION

Being seniors, we perhaps realize more the opportunities given us by the community. We recognize that the school is something more than a place to go every day or a place to meet friends. It is the opportunity given us to make our lives more useful.

Knowledge is necessary in becoming a success, but without character, personality, service and dependability we would accomplish nothing. These qualities put us and keep us on the path to happiness and security.

MRS. DORIS LANGJAHR

MR. GLENN NEEVES

Another trait needed is the ability to associate with other people, a trait acquired through experience—especially at social functions which help us acquire this trait.

None of these, however, could easily be obtained alone. Without the help of our sponsors, we would be helpless. The money spent by the community would be lost, for around the sponsor centers our destiny. Our sponsors guide us and help us through our school years—help us acquire these necessary traits in order that we may live more efficiently.

Therefore, the Senior class of 1940 dedicates its publication of the Lebanon High School Cedars to its sponsors, Mrs. Doris Langjahr and Mr. Glenn Neeves.

JANITORS

"This is the way we scrub the floor, scrub the floor,
This is the way we wash the windows, wash the windows."

In a major way the song from childhood days could well be applied to those unsung heroes who keep our school building in tip-top shape. The men referred to, of course, are the custodians of Lebanon High School.

All summer long, while everyone is enjoying a vacation, these men are working. Floors must be scrubbed and waxed, and desks cleaned and polished. Windows must be cleaned and blackboards put into shape. These are but a few of the tasks performed by these men to put our institution of learning in the most possible sanitary condition.

But their labor does not end here. When school begins, they are still on the job. Every evening after the dismissal bell rings, these men, together with their host of N. Y. A. helpers, shoulder their brooms, mops and dustpans and go to work. Every room from the third floor to the basement must be put in readiness for the next day's use.

The floor of Lebanon High School's spacious new gym is kept in perfect condition through the untiring efforts of these backstage workers. In the wintertime it is the duty of the janitors to build the fire in the furnace and keep every room at the correct temperature. They must supply heat for all events outside of school time which are held in this building.

And so time marches on! 'Twas back in 1920 that Alva Hudson first put in appearance as janitor in the junior high building, where he retains this position today. Before coming to the high school, Bill Hudson worked in this profession in the Stokes school. George Cannon, the last one to join this force, puts forth his efforts and his time in the senior high building.

Oh, yes! These men are certainly deserving of all the credit and praise that could be given them.

SCHOOL BOARD

The first Wednesday evening of each school month, the school board convenes in the superintendent's office. Dr. O. R. Pfaff was elected to preside over the school board, Mr. Allen Parr, treasurer, and Mr. Elmer Stark was voted secretary.

The school board can reserve the right to make all arrangements with the superintendent for holding the regular commencements, as to the class sermon, the programs and diplomas, the holding place of commencement, character of commencement exercises, and the dress or costume of members of the class. The board this year favored the cap and gown costume for the graduating class.

DR. O. R. PFAFF

MR. ALLAN PARR

MR. ELMER STARK

The duties of the school board are varied. They provide material equipment of the school, employ the school staff and fill temporary teaching vacancies, etc.

The board fixes the length of the school term, dates of opening school and the time and length of vacations. They fix the special and local tuition, tax levies and the age and time at which pupils may enter school. It is also the duty of the board to establish ward boundaries.

The public is invited to attend any meeting of the board, secrecy of the board is not allowed. No more than two members of the board belong to the same political party. The City Council appoints one new member each year to serve a term of three years.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS

All credit should go, beyond a doubt, to our school officials for making Lebanon High School a fine educational center.

A man whom we should hold in high esteem is a man who is supervisor of all the city schools. He has the responsibility of over 1,500 students and yet he exhibits his worthy ability in accomplishing many high standards throughout the entire town. Mr. Van Riper probably has more responsibility than any other official in the whole school.

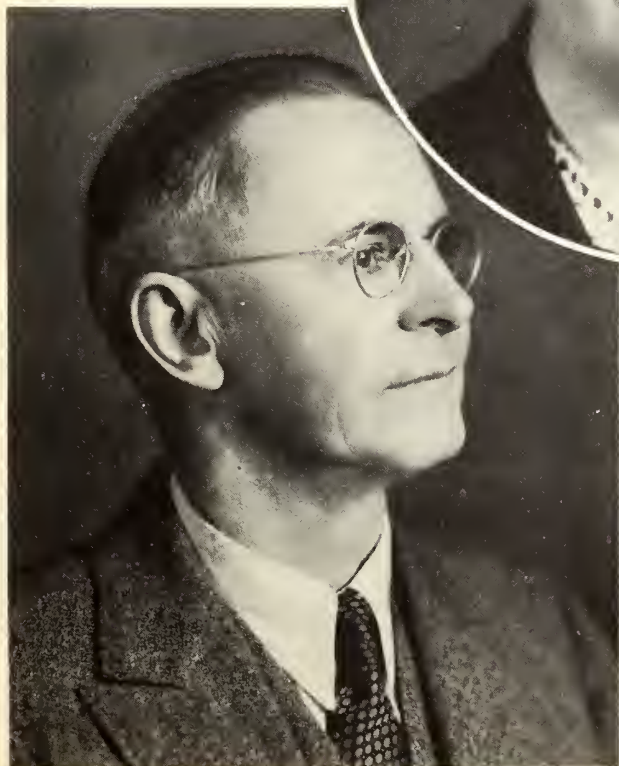

Mr. Christian, our principal, plans carefully our programs for us, so we can be satisfied with our curriculum. He figures carefully all curricular activities in order that we may exhibit and express our sportsmanship equally. Many of us have never thought of the duties of our principal, but we should by all means congratulate him and thank him for his excellent accomplishments.

MR. CHRISTIAN

MISS ETCHISON

Another person who has much to do with our school in making for it a good reputation is Miss Etchison, assistant principal. We all agree that she is worthy of her position and we see her daily carrying out her program. Miss Etchison also teaches English. We should by all means thank Miss Etchison for her helpful undertakings.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

'Twas back in the fall of '35 that 140 green little freshmen strolled through the portals of L. H. S. to begin their four years of industrious labor. At this point the class of '40 took root and grew into the fine Cedar which is now about to leave its fond memories behind and go to join the Alumni forest.

During this early stage of our rooting, some of us felt we were missing the glory and sunlight because we were overshadowed by the larger trees. We did, however, make ourselves heard from by making the rafters of the gym ring with our joyous shouts when we gave our freshman party. Frank Donaldson, our president, made it possible for us to spend the evening at a circus. Clowns, strong men and a band composed of combs, pans, brooms and a variety of kitchen utensils were featured during the evening. Miss Ruth Brookshire and Mr. Walter Tyre, our frosh sponsors, gave us poor saplings a steady hand during these trying times.

At the start of the second year, however, we became more accustomed to our surroundings, and to our delight saw our branches spreading. It was in this year that we began to demand recognition in our fair institution of learning by having representatives in the various activity curriculum. After the members of our group had assembled for this period of our growth, prospects were viewed for the presiding officers. Jack Alexander was elected to preside with John Johnson, assistant and Betty Burgess had control of the pocket-book. Some of our branches even entered the varsity basketball squad.

Juniors! Gee, we felt proud; now we were able to assert our rights of upperclassmen—and we did! Our class had the privilege of sponsoring the first all school mixer of the year. Following this on October 14, our class party was held. Members of our group presented a skit entitled "Paging Mr. Tweedy" as a portion of the program, and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing the light fantastic. We further proved our capacity for doing big things when we presented our Junior class play, "The Boomerang." Then on April 21 we entertained the seniors with the annual reception at eight o'clock. The lads and lassies donned their best formal attire and boarded the good ship S. S. Junior for their magic trip to the realm of King Neptune. The guests were met at the gang plank by the ship's officers, Admiral Julia Morton, Captain Ritchie Coons and First Mate Frank Donaldson. A contest was conducted to determine the junior girl who was to preside over this affair as the majestic queen. Virginia Hart was the victor and ascended her throne like a true member of the royal family. Her attendants for her one night of ruling were Evelyn Salts and Alada Witt. Chairmen for the big event were: Thelma Smiley, program; Betty Burgess, invitations; Evelyn Salts, decorations; Nancy Brewer, refreshments; Virginia Hart, dance; Julia Morton, reception; and Keith Sample had charge of the work committee. Chief horticulturist for this hopeful group was Mr. Myron Tauer.

The fourth year of growing found our branches fully entwined and mingled in every activity. Now we were the tall and stately protectors of the newly-planted saplings. Our long green branches acted as the guiding force to spur them on to greater heights.

Fall brought to the seniors thoughts of harvest time and the gathering of food. This theme was carried out at the senior party held in October. Because of the great number of trees in our grove, we were forced to hold this gala affair in the Methodist Church rather than the home economics room as done in previous years.

Election year and our minds were filled with civic problems. We felt very proud when we stepped into the Capitol—our gym—as Congressmen, on Homecoming day. When we adjourned, Bill Randsdall had been elected president of the Alumni association in a mock election. That night the masses swayed with the swinging rhythm of Bye Smart and his Ceramic Ambassadors at the smart L. H. S. night club.

We were the center of attraction toward the end of our growing period. Class night and Baccalaureate convinced everyone that our senior sponsors, Mrs. Doris Langjahr and Mr. Glenn Neeves, had done admirable work in cultivating and putting the final touch on us. Cooperating with our sponsors were our officers, Frank Donaldson, president; Ritchie Coons, vice-president; and Betty Burgess, secretary-treasurer.

We, in our caps and gowns on Commencement day, proved to the world that we were now fully developed Cedars ready to take our respective places in the ever-growing Alumni forest.

CLASS WILL

We, the deceased members of the Senior class of 1940, do hereby make our last requests and statements. We bequeath our possessions to the following and ask that the terms of the will be carried out as instructed.

JACK ALEXANDER: My ability to sleep in Mr. Neeves' class to some ambitious history student.

BETTY ROGERS: My Mrs. title to myself.

RITCHIE COONS: I'm taking her with me.

GEORGE ZISSIS: My big words back to the library dictionary; I'm through with them.

JUNIOR SHARPE: My noisy walk to Miss Kenworthy.

DON WATTS: My Hi-Y pin to Rosie—only she has it already.

KATHERINE RAGSDALE: My place in the National Honor Society to Gene Wheelchel.

TOM CRANE: Myself to June with love.

PAULINE HUTSON: My contempt for men to Barbara Heady.

RUTH CHANDLER: My sunny disposition to the faculty.

CHARLES LUSK: My funny books to Jean Dutch. She needs them.

ALADA WITT: My dumb questions to anyone who can answer them.

ROBERT QUICK: My last name to all slow people.

BETTY HARMON: I go to meet him.

CLARENCE HILL: My artistic touch to the Art Dept.

DICK DUTCH: I leave—that's enough.

SARA AITKENS: My height to George McNaughton.

ALBERTA ARTMAN: My domestic ways to Beverly Click.

PAUL RUMMEL: My blushes to Marjorie Johnson.

JUNIOR SMALL: My prejudice toward the Democratic party to the poor Republicans of L. H. S.

FRANK DONALDSON: My presidential worries to whomever can take them.

QUENTIN WHITE: My "T" shirts to next year's squad.

BOB LONG: All my gray hairs to next year's Cedars Editor.

BOB SANFORD: "Dinky" to the auto mechanics department providing they find out why it runs.

SONNY SHELBY: Hi-Y pin to Mr. Neeves.

JULIA MORTON: My quiet way to Junior Swope.

HELEN BOYLAND: My brown eyes to all "baby dolls."

MILDRED BALDWIN: My out-of-town interest to all dissatisfied Lebanon girls.

ROSEMARY COLGROVE: My senior picture to the Hollywood producers.

THELMA SMILEY: My nickname "Frog" to my kid sister.

BETTY BURGESS: My tomboy ways to Madonna Waters.

JOHN JOHNSON: My yellow excuses to the office.

CHARLES VANAUSDALL: My broom back to the janitor.

MARTHA JACKSON: I leave the worries of the senior candy committee far behind me.

EVERETT AGAN: My "jitterbug" dancing to Cecil Giles.

LOU ANN PEARL: The band to my twin sisters.

MARY JANE CHRISTY: My love for candy to Miss Murphy.

GLENROSE GAYER: "Jeff" can take care of himself.

ELIZABETH WHITE: My shyness to Jeanne Cooper.

BILL WALKER: My strength to next year's backguard.

DICK DELONG: My brains to Einstein.

ARVILLA BECK: My slap-happy ways to Mable Morton.

MILDRED GAYER: My hair to Mr. Rainey providing he uses only part of it and passes it on to Mr. Tauer.

MARTHA HARLOS: My "chic" clothes to "Becky" Ragsdale.

VIRGINIA HART: My soprano voice to the Metropolitan.

EVELYN SALTS: I'll take it all with me.

DICK MILLER: My cars to my brother.

MEREDITH MOORE: My giggle to "Butch" Neuman.

KARL FLEMING: My red "J" sweater to the moths.

KEITH SAMPLE: My literary ability to next year's Pulitzer prize winner.

JACKIE WILCOX: My driving to the safety department.

DORIS ROGERS: My fingernails to the Chinese.

EILEEN BROSHAR: My strong physique to Mary K. Miller.

BETTE ANNE CALDWELL: My reversible coat to Sue Pulliam.

NOBLE ROSE: My curly locks to Betty Kelley.

JEAN CLEMENS: My brother to the Science Dept. on one condition—that they keep him under observation.

PATSY CHUMLEA: The economic problems to the government.

VIRGINIA CRAIG: Cousin "Becky" can carry on for me.

JANE CROWL: I leave Frank to play my ping-pong game.

DON BROSHAR: My dark red complexion to Rosemary Martin, providing she uses it only on certain occasions.

BETTY CUSTER: I guess I can safely leave with Ritchie going too.

MARJORIE DEMOTT: My gallant stride to Julia Jones.

MARIE FELLMY: My ivory complexion to the Palm Olive Company.

JESSIE MAE GEORGE: My prize winning cows to Bill Crane.

EMMA JEAN GRAHAM: My jet black hair to Virginia Walker.

ELTON WILLIAMS: My farm knowledge to the Ag. Dept.

JAMES TURNER: My "ambitious" attitude to Clayton Brown.

ANNA MAE HAYS: My chewing gum to the leaky radiators of our high school.

CLASS PROPHECY

As we step into our stratospheric plane, the invention of the century by George Zissis, professor of Science at Yale University, we settle back in our comfortable chairs close to our television set so that we may take a peek into the lives of the Alumni of 1940.

We leave the ground and soar through space. Presently we push the magic button and stop at our Alma Mater, Lebanon High School. We find Ray Darnell seated at the principal's desk. In the outer office we find the dean of women, Ruth Wilhoite. On the desk of Principal Darnell we see a familiar paper. It is the list of the faculty. The Journalism teacher is Ruth Neptune. We can't say we are surprised. She always had a knack for such things. Oh, goodness! can you believe it? Betty Burgess and Martha Jackson are co-teachers of physical education for the boys. Norma Megley has finally realized her ambition and is now honorable teacher of Home Economics.

Speaking of Journalism, that brings to our minds ten years ago when we worked on the Pennant staff. Evelyn Salts was editor then. Paul Cox, another staff member, is now the owner of a shoe polish factory. We hear he has invented a polish which requires less elbow action. I recall the sports writers of that time, Frank Donaldson and Bob Sanford. Frank surely has gone places. He is the presidential candidate for 1954. Of course the age limit in the Constitution will have to be changed, but that is only a small matter. Oh, well, he can say he got his start when the class of '40 elected him as their class president. Bob Sanford has taken over the Ford Manufacturing plant and is now making a new automobile called the "Dinky."

Reluctantly, we switch the dial and take leave of our high school.

As I sit musing, a smile creeps over my face. I simply have to smile as I think of the clown I saw last week in Quentin White's circus. By the way, Quentin stands in the corner and serves as chief barker for this outfit. Now back to the clown. As I walked in, he came up to me with a blank look on his face, and who should it be but Dick Dutch. Two very famous midgets are also with his circus. You remember them I'm sure, Anna Mae Hays and Kenneth Perkins. Comrades Beck and Boyland, L. H. S. jitterbugs, now amaze the crowds by doing their unique steps on an 8 x 10 disk, suspended in the air and fastened to the belt of Charles "Strong Man" Lusk. Of course, Jane Crowl and Bob Long are still doing that "Oscar the Flea" act they pulled at Homecoming ten years ago. But if they get paid for it, why should we worry.

It is now 7 o'clock and quickly we turn the television dial to 850. We just couldn't miss "The Melody Hour" sponsored by the Elton Williams Farm Implements Corporation, featuring Junior Sharpe and his orchestra. With the band, we find the "Four Sharpes," Glenrose Gayer, Imogene Miller, Jean Clemens and Mildred Gayer. Sh! wait a minute! Mr. Sharpe has just made an important announcement. Alada Witt and Jack Alexander, the sensational dance team on his program, are leaving the show to make their screen debut in "Do You Bounce Bowling Balls?" What a beautiful voice Virginia Hart has. All the critics declare Mr. Sharpe very lucky to be able to present such a talented concert soloist.

Jackie Wilcox and Patricia Chumlea have lost three or four pounds and are modeling the latest Parisian fashions of Schiaparelli for such outstanding New York celebrities as the Misses Bonnie Lough, Jessie Mae George and Phyllis Winkler. Don and Eileen Broshar are now making a nice sum of money posing for a soap company as "The Gold Top Twins." Also in the modeling field is Ruth Chandler who has taken up posing for tooth paste ads. Junior Warren has found his place in the sun with the Max Factor Company modeling the very smartest shades of rouge. Also in the modeling world is Doris Rogers who models diamond bracelets in Carl Fellers 5 & 10c store.

The paper reveals that Dr. Ritchie Coons is experimenting in his laboratory to find out why minds function—like the one possessed by Charles Campbell. Everyone says he should go far with Mrs. Coons (formerly Betty Custer) acting as chief surgical nurse. Anna Mae Highland, Elizabeth White and Barbara Martin, noted social workers, are doing their bit to clean up war-torn China. Here in the corner we see that Bette Harmon has sailed on a mission to Europe. It is rumored that she is shopping for and perhaps will buy her seventh husband. With her as her companion and private secretary, goes Aliene Poer. Her main duty is to keep a record of all Bette's matrimonial victims.

Virginia Craig has invented padding for the inside of automobiles to prevent head injuries in auto accidents. We find Marie Fellmy in Hollywood gaining her fortune by using her expressive hands to double for actresses.

Mr. and Mrs. James Turner (Sara Aitkens) are investing their spare cash in the Jim Turner & Son Trucking Company.

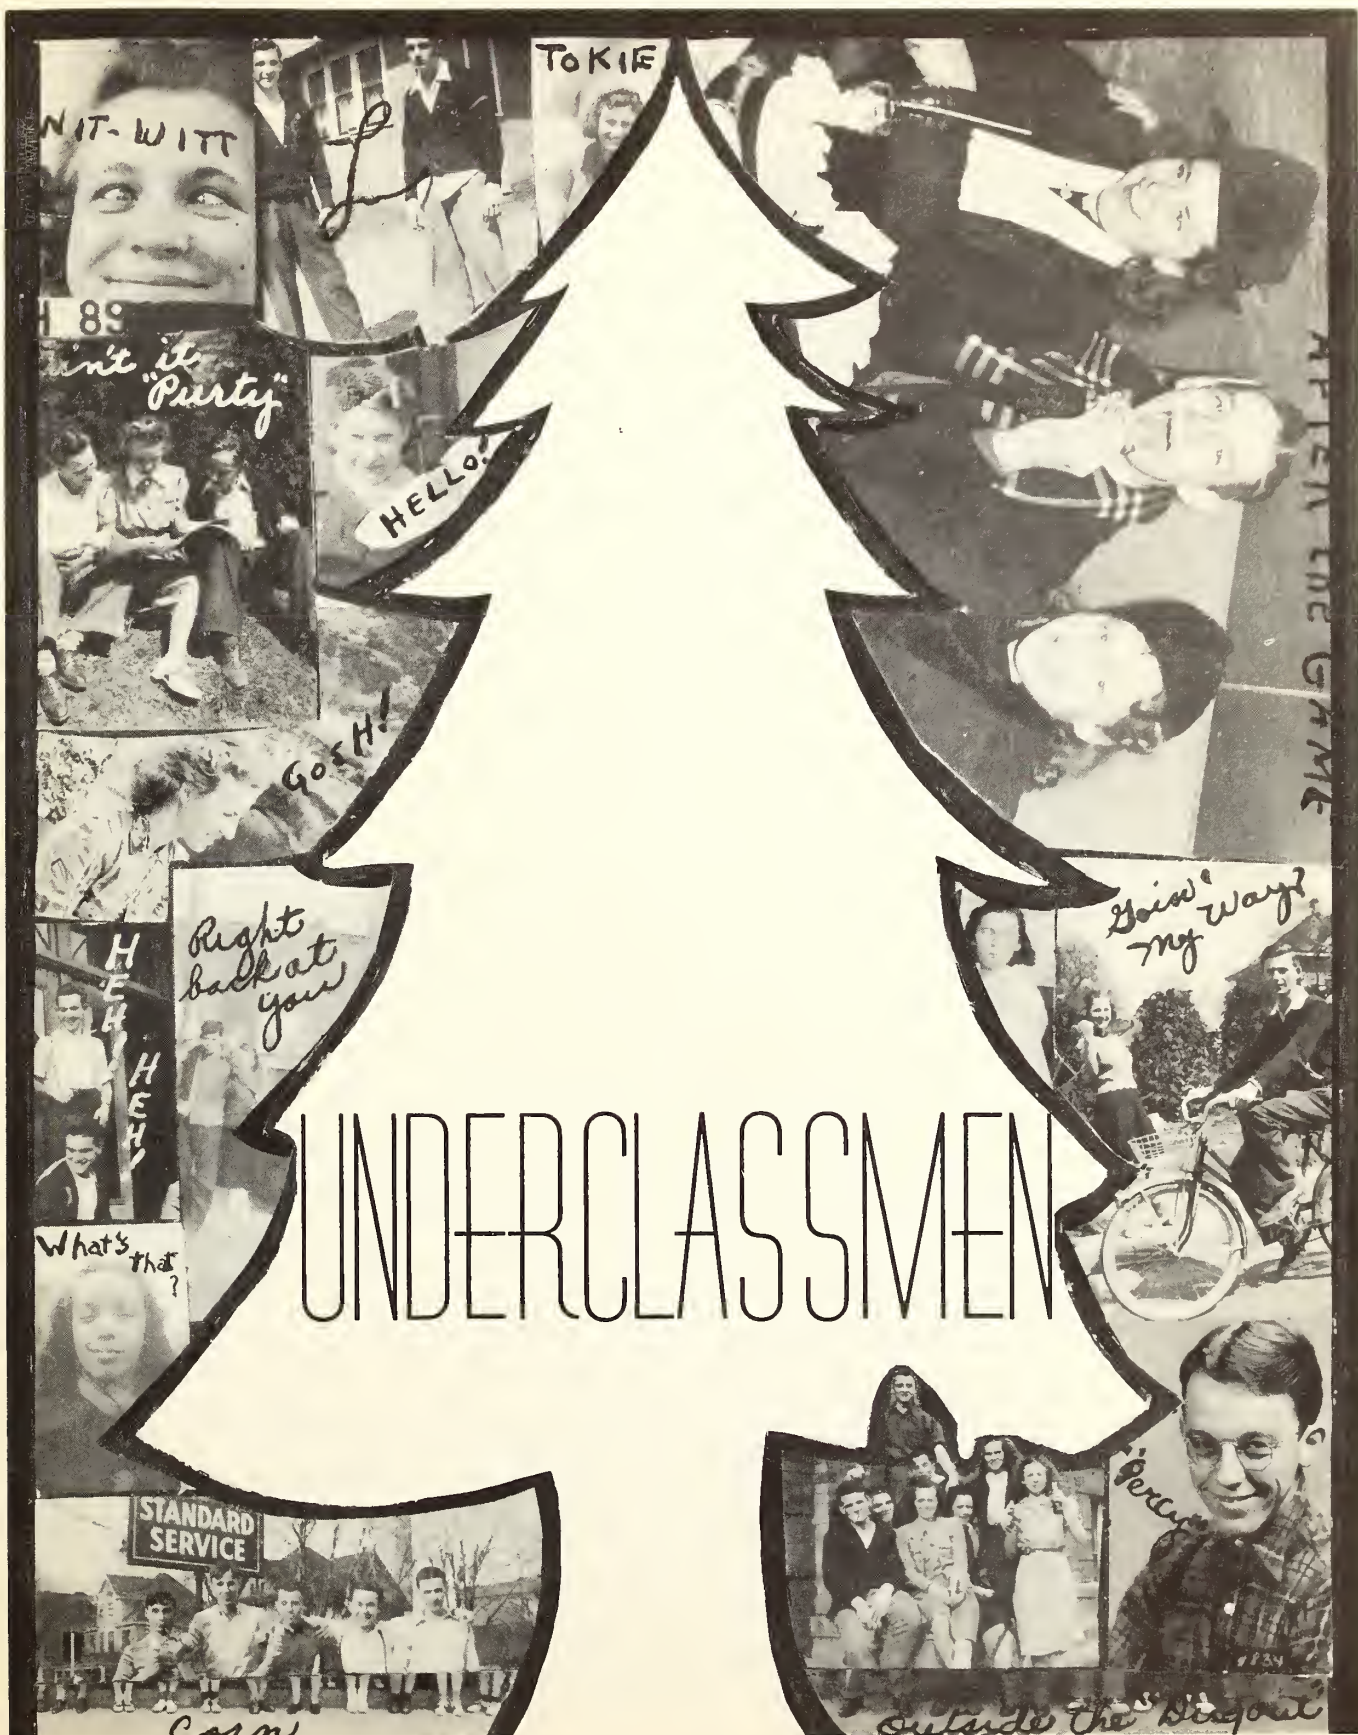

Keith Sample won for himself a place in the literary world. In 1947 he won the Pulitzer prize for his comedy drama "I Wanna Go Home." This play, featuring the star of screen and radio, Sonny Shelby, is considered the top box office hit of the year. A fairly unknown actress, Katherine Ragsdale, recently made her debut in the play "The Old Maid" and has been proclaimed by many as the successor of Katherine Cornell.

We find John Johnson still trying to make it through Hazel College. He goes to school two days, then misses four. He declares school makes him tired so he is just taking his time. Wilbur Small, now sheriff of Boone County, recently got his picture in the paper for capturing two fugitives from the chain gang, Elmo Blubaugh and Billy Stewart. Don Watts, the Powder Puff Pelter, defeated Joe Louis in Madison Square Garden in 1949, winning for himself the World's Heavyweight Championship title. At the present time he is in Miami for his next bout with the challenger, Jim Laughner.

Arthur Gleb, owner of the Avon theater, recently announced the presentation of "Fled with the Breeze," by Morris Adair, featuring the newly proclaimed "oomph" girl, Rosemary Colgrove. Dick DeLong feels Bell made a great mistake when he invented the telephone and sits

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1937, a group of students entered the Freshman class unnoticed and undisturbed. In that year Robert Morris was elected to head the green saplings with Jack Chaille to act as vice-president and Anna Jane Simmons as secretary-treasurer. On November 5 the freshman class party was held under the leadership of the now fully grown and sturdy Cedars, the sponsors, Miss Mary Ellen Armstrong and Mr. Marvin Richey.

As sophomores this class voted for entire masculine rule by electing Fred Iacobelli, president; Robert Walters, vice-presidents; and Wray Friend, secretary-treasurer. Sponsor Albert Longbrake helped the class in making their class party which was held in the gym in November a success.

Drifting into the position of juniors, this partially grown forest met in the early fall and chose George McNaughton, a newcomer to Lebanon High School, president by an unanimous vote. Clair Young was elected vice-president and Anna Jane Simmons was again voted to be keeper of the books and funds.

On October 13 the juniors held their class party in the gym under the direction of their sponsors, Miss Lydia Bell and Myron Tauer. The day being Friday the 13th, the program, which contained a seance and several mysterious musical numbers, was based upon superstition. The program committee for this affair consisted of Wray Friend, chairman; June Proffitt, James McDaniel and Robert Walters. The ticket sale was in charge of Junior Swope with assistants Rosemary Martin, Barbara Beck and Charles Richardson. Robert Morris headed the refreshment committee aided by Phyllis Scifres, Frank Crowl and Donald Watkins.

November 3 found the gym as the setting for the Junior Carnival. This idea, introduced by this class, took the place of the annual Junior class play which was given to obtain money to present the Junior-Senior Reception in the spring. For this affair regular carnival booths, such as ring-toss, fortune telling and freak show, were erected. Chairmen, who were to choose their own committees, were selected from the class by the sponsors. These chairmen were: Frank Crowl, June Proffitt, Bette Gillette, Rosemary Martin, Phyllis Scifres, Anna Jane Simmons, Clair Young and Julia Jones.

This event was largely attended by students, faculty and townspeople, which made it successful socially as well as financially.

On April 19 this class presented the seniors with the Junior-Senior Reception. This annual formal event was held in the gym with the program and decorations following an oriental theme. Committees for the affair were appointed by the sponsors, Miss Bell and Mr. Tauer, and were as follows: invitation, Wray Friend, chairman; Bill Jordan, Beth Cragun, Bob Swope, Agatha Richey, Mildred Gosnell, Jean Miller, Janet Schultz, Junior Swope and Rosemary Turner; reception, George McNaughton, chairman; Clair Young and Anna Jane Simmons; decorations, Rosemary Martin, chairman; Doris Chambers, Virginia Hine, Phyllis Hunter, Evelyn Stewart, Rose Hicks and Julia Jones; entertainment, June Proffitt, chairman; Glenn Cooper, Charles Hopkins, Norma Perkins, Janis Megley, Lois King and Constance McCabe; refreshment, Phyllis Scifres, chairman; Betty Sherman, Mary Lee Cline, Beverly Click, Jack West, Joan Edwards, Dan Martin, Fred Iacobelli and Kathleen Hooton; work, Duel Slagle, chairman; Bob Morris, Paul Nichols, Clayton Brown, Bob Walters, Joe Copenhaver, Richard Fuller and Don Whitaker; and dance, Bette Gillette, chairman; Jenny Lou Budd and James McDaniel.

The members of this class have certainly made a name for themselves as juniors. May they do the same as the class of 1941!

MEMORIES

Last fall at the meeting to elect class officers, George McNaughton, a newcomer to Lebanon High School, was nominated for president. When no other nomination was made, he became president of the Junior class.

On the second semester first six weeks honor roll Betty Morrow, a Junior, was the only student in L. H. S. to have a perfect record of 5 E's.

Bill Jordan was nicknamed "Dagwood" because when he parted his hair in the middle, he resembled the "Blondie" funny strip character.

"Energetic" Judy Jones after folding 126 Pennants was informed by her fellow journalists that she had added the room numbers instead of the number in the rooms which was only 13.

The audience roared when Mary Lee Cline portrayed a cranky old "invalid" in the dramatics class play "The Three Little Maids."

The regional proved quite a happy occasion for Junior Swope, Don Mitchell and Dick Fuller. Why? Well, they met the feminine yell leaders from Lafayette. No further explanation is needed.

After the T. S. T. Christmas party, several members of this dear class got in their morning exercises by walking some two miles into town after the car failed while taking a country party home.

Just ask June Proffitt, Jack Chaille, Jenny Lou Budd, Wray Friend and Doris Chambers what happened.

At the masquerade mixer last fall, Knobby Slagle was certainly surprised and embarrassed to find that the "Scarecrow" he had been dancing and cutting up with was none other than Mrs. McIntyre.

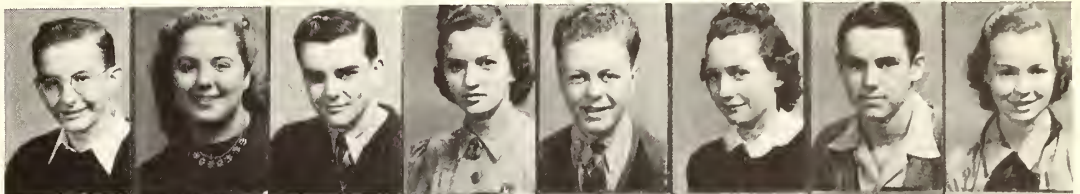

When Miss Armstrong called "Majetta" in Latin class she was answered by a drowsy "Yes" from Jack Chaille. But he was a bit on the sleepy side.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

Heading the young limbs known as sophomores were Robert Wall, president; Jack Porter, vice-president; and Emma Lee Wade, secretary-treasurer. The sponsors for this class were Miss Ruth Brookshire and Mr. Walter Tyre.

The night of October 20 these students gathered in the gym for their class party. The program committee, Rebecca Ragsdale, chairman; Suzanne Pulliam, Jimmy Watkins and Bill Smiley, carried out a program planned on the theme of a night club. The program was divided into three parts, between which the students danced. In charge of the music for these intermissions were Cecil Giles, Patsy Barnett, Janis Megley and John Miller. After the program had been completed, Patricia Edwards, assisted by Gloria Scali, Mary Jewell ShROUT and Betty Kelley, served refreshments. For those students not dancing, games had been planned by Barbara Heady, Joe Bill Iacobelli, Rose Bateman and Bob Fraley.

The night club theme of the party was carried out in the decorations by Iwanna Williamson, Rosemary Smith, Eugene Belcher, Eugene Bowers and Bob Kinnaman.

The house committee was composed of Mary Louise Revel, Bonetha Shoemaker, Stephen Ward, Lloyd Wilhoite, Jack Heflin and Bob Wall.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

Majetta Stewart, Wilbur French and David Laflin headed in the usual order of office the green branches known around school as freshmen. Mrs. Lila Shinn and Mr. Albert Longbrake were the sponsors of these high school beginners.

On October 24, the class held its annual party in the gym. In charge of the sale of tickets were Jimmy DeMott, chairman; Carl Winkler, Mary Connor and Miriam Otterman. For the program on the stage, arranged by the committee composed of Hugh Tanner, chairman; Phyllis McCord, Maxine Gosnell and Francis Cain, Maxine Gosnell acted as mistress of ceremonies. The program was modeled after Kay Kyser's radio program, and Maxine asked questions of different types to students selected at random from the audience.

Following the program refreshments were served by the committee consisting of Ralph Houser and Maxine White. The Victor recorder furnished music for dancing which continued for the remainder of the evening.

The stage and the gymnasium were attractively decorated by the committee of which Bob Truitt was chairman, and Ruth Jefferies, Marjorie Pearl and Blanchard Dale were members.

EIGHTH GRADE HISTORY

The little twigs on the tree of Lebanon High School, who are known as eighth graders, met one fall day and selected their leaders for the year. These leaders and their offices were Richard Fulwider, president; James Meyers, vice-president; Maurice Sheets, secretary-treasurer. Miss Marie Shanks and Mr. Dwight Mood sponsored this class.

The students met in the junior high auditorium for the program of their class party on October 10. A spelling bee, one of the features of the program, consisting of five 8A students versus five 8B students, was won by the 8B students. The rest of the program consisted of a variety of jokes, songs, readings and specialty dances. The committee in charge of this portion of the party was Joanna Barr, chairman; Raymond Jackson and Charles Slaughter.

Following the program the class went to the small gym where various games and contests, arranged by Phyllis Wade, Norma Potts and Rex Campbell, were played. Mary Beth Antcliff, James Pauley and Carrol Richardson were in charge of refreshments.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

SEVENTH GRADE HISTORY

The members of the seventh grade elected the following students as their class officers: Donald Wall, president; Ross Howard, vice-president; Alma Sheets, secretary-treasurer. Miss Kathryn Herle and Mr. Marvin Richey were the seventh grade sponsors this year.

At four o'clock on October 17 the members of the class gathered in the junior high auditorium for their class party. The program on the stage was in charge of Lois Morris, Paul Tauer, Alice McIntyre and Jack Lenox. The program consisted of a number of readings, tap dances, a humorous skit, instrumental and vocal solos.

Following the program the students went to the small gym where they played games and danced.

Refreshments were served by members of the committee, Robert Agan, Alma Sheets, Norma Otterman and Virginia Reed.

Lois Morris and Peggy Wright entered the junior high division of the Oratorical Contest sponsored by the Lebanon Reporter. The preliminary contest was held in April and the finals in May.

The 1940 Cedars staff was selected in December by Miss Louise Murphy, sponsor, and work was begun almost immediately with the responsibilities of the editorship going to Robert Long, while Evelyn Salts was chosen to act as associate editor. The theme, suggested by the annual's name, was that of the growth of a cedar tree.

The business end of the Cedars was capably handled by Mary Jane Christy, business manager, and Ritchie Coons, circulation manager.

As the temperature grew colder outside, the Cedar thermometer slowly rose to the temperature of 565 degrees. The Cedars circulation managers worked out an extraordinary campaign this year. Leaders could be seen desperately trying to carry their "paint bucket of subscriptions" to the top. Home room 35 was the first to paint "Victory" at the top of their ladder with 305%. In the junior high division room 3 chalked up the victory. A total of 565 subscriptions was obtained during the contests between the senior high home rooms and junior high home rooms.

For the second year, the Pennant was a printed paper under the sponsorship of Miss Louise Murphy.

Evelyn Salts and Katherine Ragsdale, as editor and associate editor, respectively, were in charge of the first semester publication, and Ruth Chandler, editor, and George Zissis, associate editor, the second semester directed the various departments into a successful year of journalistic attempts.

A very extensive and effective campaign was handled by the circulation manager, Paul Cox, the first semester. The contesting home rooms had small racers which rounded the 500 mile track at different speeds. The race was won by room 42 in the senior high division and by room 1 in the junior division.

Mary Jane Christy, business manager, and Ritchie Coons, advertising manager, capably carried out the business end during the first semester. Bette Ann Caldwell and Everett Agan were in charge of these departments the second semester.

The second semester staff continued their operations with no campaign. Special Homecoming and Sectional editions were printed this year. A total of 515 subscriptions was obtained by the two staffs. Helen Boyland was circulation manager the second semester.

The Societas Romanas was organized to enrich the study of the advanced Latin course and to stimulate Latin interest in school. To be eligible, the following qualifications are required: students who have two credits in Latin and are taking Latin 3 and 4, those who have at least four credits and are taking advanced Latin, and those who have taken advanced Latin.

On Honor Day four awards were given: two to the outstanding students in first year Latin and two to the outstanding students in second year Latin. The Latins meet twice each month, one meeting of which is held in the Dugout or in some other recreational center.

Officers elected were: First Consul, Virginia Hart; Second Consul, Cecil Giles; Quaistor, Virginia Kirkpatrick; Plebian Aedile, Walter Anderson.

The year's activities were supervised by Miss Mary Ellen Armstrong, sponsor.

During the year, the club purchased ten French and English dictionaries to be used in the French classes. On Honor Day they made awards to each of the two outstanding students of first year French and the two outstanding members of second year French.

The club met every two weeks in the school library. Mrs. Madelaine Cain is sponsor of this club. This year the club had a membership of thirty French students.

"L" CLUB

The "L" Club, an athletic organization under the sponsorship of Coach Paul Neuman, possesses as its members, boys who have earned an "L" letter. As soon as a boy is awarded an "L," he automatically becomes a member of this club. The main purpose of the "L" club is to promote a finer spirit in athletics and enthusiastic cooperation of the student body. ## DEBATE

Under the excellent supervision of Mr. Charles Rainey, the squads won the sectional tournament. The team took part in the following tournaments: Purdue conference, Bloomington tournament and National Forensic League tournament. George Zissis placed second and Ruth Neptune placed third at the Central Indiana Oratorical contest. Both George and Ruth won first place in the oratory and reading divisions, respectively, in the Boone County Oratorical contest.

N. F. L.

The officers of the National Forensic League of this year were president, George Zissis; vice-president, Thelma Smiley and secretary-treasurer, Paul Nichols. Mr. Charles Rainey, speech coach, was the sponsor of this organization. To gain membership in this national organization the students must have at least twenty points in speech. At least one point is gained in each inter-school activity, such as debate, extemporaneous speaking or oratorical contests. One of the projects of the league is to furnish speakers for school programs.

Mr. Wayne Van Sickle, new L. H. S. music director this year, brought about many outstanding improvements in the band.

For the first time in its marching career the band made formations, both letter and pinwheel.

With the generous aid of the Tri Kappa Sorority, the band, by sponsoring Heaney, the Magician and the Kautsky and Hammond professional basketball game, raised funds to buy striking new maroon and gray uniforms.

Several new instruments were acquired for members, and new music racks were placed in the band room.

Throughout the year the band played at convocations and home basketball games. They willingly assisted in the Homecoming, Junior Carnival, Senior Class Night and Mayfest programs. They entertained the County Boy Scout Jamboree. At Band Recognition Day, held on Butler University campus, the band performed. Radio Station WIBC featured it on a half-hour's program. In March an excellent concert as a special convocation was presented by the band. During Music Week in May they gave a joint concert with the Butler University band. This music meet was sponsored by Tri Kappa.

Throughout the entire year, the Hi-Y Club has upheld their high standing with the student body.

The Hi-Y has promoted many constructive movements this year in again picking the most courteous boy and girl of the high school. They have also upheld their purpose which is "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the church and community, high standards of Christian character." This year, as every year, the Hi-Y had its state convention at Indianapolis. They went to Turkey Run for the spring picnic. The officers who were the "backbone" of the organization this year were as follows: Ritchie Coons, president; Meredith Moore, vice-president; George Zissis, secretary; and Don Broshar, treasurer. Mr. Glenn Neeves and Mr. Albert Longbrake upheld the sponsorships.

In the first meeting of the 1939-40 Commercial Club, Sara Aitken was elected president; Raymond Darnell, vice-president; and Bette Jean Harmon, secretary-treasurer. Jack Alexander and Mary Evelyn Salts were chosen captains for the two teams in the contest to gain new members to the club. As a result of this contest, Jack Alexander's team were guests at a chili supper held in the home economics rooms on November 2 for the entire club of forty-nine members. Discussions and programs of commercial interest and visits to the Bell Telephone Company were enjoyed by the society. Dues paid by the members of the club is the source of financing the commercial awards of pins and certificates to those students outstanding in speed and accuracy in shorthand and type-writing. Mrs. Doris Langjahr, commercial teacher, is sponsor of this club which was organized in 1927.

SENIOR SUNSHINE

The annual donation of Christmas baskets to the needy, and contribution to the Riley Fund, the Christmas doll exhibit and sale, and the Mother's Valentine Tea were the main activities of the Senior Sunshine society. The members of the Sunshine council met frequently to discuss plans and problems before presenting them at one of the regular monthly meetings of the entire organization.

JUNIOR SUNSHINE

The Junior Sunshine society, which offers excellent training for later participation in the Senior Sunshine activities, consists of the girls in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. The organization made its annual donation of books to the junior high library and held too parties as entertainment for the members. The council and the sponsor, Mrs. Drubelle Stephenson, transacted the business for the society.

QUILL & SCROLL

At the beginning of the year the Quill and Scroll had a membership of five journalism students. At their first meeting they elected the following officers: president, Martha Jackson; vice-president, Betty Custer; and secretary-treasurer, Glenrose Gayer. In order to become a member of this organization the applicant must work on the Pennant for at least six weeks, and show outstanding qualities as a journalist. Miss Louise Murphy sponsored this organization.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS

Fifteen girls were chosen this year to assist Miss Ruth Brookshire, school librarian in the Junior and Senior High libraries. The girls work a year in the high school library where they receive their training through laboratory lessons. These girls receive one credit per year for this work. In October the librarians and Miss Brookshire gave a tea in the Junior High library for the members of the faculty.

JUNIOR NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The Junior National Honor Society elected Martha Ann Honan president; Wilbur French, vice-president, and Tommy Green, secretary-treasurer. New members are taken into the society once a year from the seventh and eighth grades. They are chosen on the basis of loyalty, character, service and scholarship. Three honor cups are presented to those home-rooms having the highest percentage of honor roll students. Mrs. Laverne Endicott sponsors this organization.

Row I—Wilbur French, Martha Ann Honan, Joanna Barr, Majetta Stewart, Tommy Green.

LAB. ASSISTANTS

At the beginning of the school year 1939-40 Mr. Howard and Mr. Jones selected assistants to help them in the laboratory and classroom work in the science department. To be selected these students must have had one credit in science and be working on a second. These students are chosen for their interest in science, their good scholastic record in previous science and other subjects, and their willingness to work.

Row I—Richard DeLong, Bette Gillette, Lou Ann Pearl, June Proffitt.

Row II—Jackie Williams, Beverly Taylor, Frank Donaldson, George Zissis.

Row III—Bob Long, Mr. Jones, Tom Crane, Mr. Howard.

SCIENCE CLUB

The 1939-40 Science Club, starting its school year with Richard DeLong as president, Frank Donaldson as vice-president, and Betty Burgess as secretary-treasurer, had, with the co-operation of its sponsors, Mr. M. M. Jones and Mr. Ralph Howard, programs made up of motion pictures, discussions, and tours of several factories. The Science club trophy was awarded again, with the main point, contribution to science, as a basis of the selection.

HOME EC. CLUB

"Confucius say: 'The way to a man's heart is through his stomach,'" declares Marjorie DeMott, home economics historian, and the home economics girls are inclined to agree with the learned philosopher.

Norma Megley was voted chief leader of the Home Economics Club, with Ruth Chandler and Virginia Hine working at her side as vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. Miss Barbara Gibbs supervised the group.

The cookie, candy and hot dog sales held by the girls helped prove to the world that this new generation is producing good cooks. The crowning point of their career was the Grandmothers' Tea held December 21.

CANDELABRUM

The seven-branched candlestick, the symbol of the Seven Cardinal Principles of Secondary Education, was presented to the school by the class of 1929 at the suggestion of Miss Lydia Bell, with the request that the tapers be lighted with the explanatory ritual on all public occasions when the seniors assembled as a class during the senior year. Health, Command of Fundamental Processes, Worthy Home Membership, Vocation, Citizenship, Worthy Use of Time and Ethical Character are the Cardinal Principles of the Candelabrum Committee.

ATHLETIC BOARD OF CONTROL

The Athletic Board of Control is the Lebanon High School Executive Body of the Indiana Athletic Association. The association is composed of students. The purpose of the board is twofold: to determine the price of home basketball games and of season tickets; to determine what persons shall receive athletic awards—letters, monograms, and numerals. This board consists of the superintendent of schools, the principal, dean of girls' physical education teachers, "L" club president, basketball representative, president, vice-president and secretary of the local Athletic association, boy representative and girl representative.

JR. OFFICE ASST.

Junior high school office assistants for each period are chosen by Miss Grace Etchison, assistant principal. The work of the girls, acting as assistants, consists of these duties: making out attendance records, taking charge of the lost and found department, directing the visitors, running various errands, answering the telephone and filing records. Miss Etchison chooses the assistants who she thinks will stay on the job, are dependable, and are honest.

L. H. S. SPORTS REVIEW

Lebanon 33, Jeffersonville 30

In their first game of the current season the Tigers turned back the strong Jeffersonville Red Devils by the count of 33 to 30. The "Butcherment" were never in real danger until the final minutes started ticking away and it looked as if anything might happen when the Red Devils staged a rally which fell short. Alexander was high for Lebanon with 2 field goals and 6 free throws.

Lebanon 44, Aurora, Ill., 33

The Lebanon Tigers tackled the first out-of-state quintet for many a year and sent them home with a 44 to 33 defeat. The Lebanon boys led all the way and were threatened only in the final minutes, by baskets by Morris, Alexander and D. Watts served as a counter attack. Bob Morris was high for the Tigers with 5 field goals and as many free throws.

Lebanon 36, Jeff of Lafayette 29

Abie Master's Broncos of Lafayette paid a visit to the high school gym on November 24 and became the fourth victim of the Lebanon squad by the score of 36 to 29. Big Bill Walker, of the Tigers, chalked up 12 points and turned in some neat defensive work along with Jack Alexander, who came second with 10 points. Hansen, forward of the Jeff five, played a great game and kept the visitors always in the running.

Lebanon 56, Delphi 17

Shattering both offensive and defensive records for the year, the Lebanon Tigers tromped over the Oracles from Delphi by the score of 56 to 17 in the local goalry on the night of February 7. Bob Morris was high for the victors with 11 points. Sonny Shelby and Charley Richardson were close seconds with 10 points each. Hann and J. Bowman shared eight of the losers 17 points.

Lebanon 28, Crawfordsville 30

The return tilt with the Crawfordsville Athenians proved to be a "sudden death" battle with the C'ville lads coming from a twelve-point disadvantage to take the lead in the fourth quarter by one point. McNaughton knotted the score with two minutes to go, sending the game into an overtime. However, Clements, of Crawfordsville, put one through to cinch the second straight win over the Tigers by the count of 30-28.

Lebanon 40, Frankfort 26

A great celebration was held on the night of February 6 following a terrific battle between Lebanon's Tigers and the rival Hot Dogs from Frankfort. It was the first time in five years that the local five could defeat Coach Case and his boys. Playing a tight defensive game along with some great offensive work, the Tigers were never headed and came out on top 40-26.

Lebanon 40, South Bend 38

The Lebanon Tigers lengthened their victory string to five consecutive at the expense of "Johnny" Wooden's invincible Central of South Bend quintet in an exciting game which ended with the Tigers out in front by two points 40 to 38. South Bend took an early lead, but they relinquished early in the second quarter. Don Watts with 13 and Alexander with 12 points were high for the Tigers.

Lebanon 24, Shortridge 26

Lebanon suffered its fifth setback of the season in trying to break a six-year jinx held by the Shortridge Blue Devils, who continued by defeating the Tigers 26-24 in a sloppy offensive battle. Neither team was hitting and both missed several set-up shots. Jack Alexander was high-point man for the local squad, collecting ten points. Benjamin obtained six points for the victors.

Lebanon 48, Lapel 37

"Butch" Neuman's fast-breaking Tigers defeated Coach Hinshaw's gallant fighters in the local goal hall by the score of 48 to 37. The Tigers led at the end of every quarter. At the end of the first stanza the score stood 8 to 7, at half time 21 to 18, and 33 to 30 at the three-quarter mark. Morris and Barnhizer were high with 15 and 12 points, respectively.

Lebanon 29, Crawfordsville 31

The local goal hall was the scene of one of the most exciting games of the year when the Crawfordsville Athenians met and defeated the Tigers 31 to 29. This game looked as if it might be another Tiger victory until Ross connected three times from the field in the closing minutes to spell defeat for the Lebanon team. Alexander and Don Watts got 9 and 8 points respectively for the Tigers.

FRESHMEN-JUNIOR HI TEAMS

Coach Jewel Kincaid issued a call for basketball players in the first week of December and 30 boys reported. From this array of future stars two teams were chosen. These boys engaged in eight games this year and emerged victorious three times. They are all hard workers and before too many years pass they will probably be seen wearing varsity uniforms.

Row I—Wilbur French, Don Myers, Jim Daugherty, Bob Blackwell, Bill Crane, Walter Perkins, Tommy Green.

not appear with the Freshman team.

The Freshman basketball team was hard hit when grades came out and an expected strong team was turned into just another team by this ineligibility of players. However, Coach Kincaid did his best with the material at hand and managed to squeeze two victories in five games. More attention should be paid to the yearling teams, because after all some of them are the future Tigermen.

Row I—Paul Tauer, Jessie Nease, Carrol Richardson, Bob Smiley, Kelly Gillam, Jim Myers, Phillip Hoffman, Maurice Sheets.

Row II—Bob Thompson, Bob Agan, Paul Sheets, Mr. Kincaid, Bob Lantz, Bob Blackwell, Charles Slaughter, Bob Miller, Ross Howard.

SECTIONAL-REGIONAL REVIEW

March 29 finally rolled around for the Lebanon Tigers after completing a very successful season under the guiding hand of "Butch" Neuman, who was serving his tenth year as director of athletics in our Tiger realm.

"Butch" certified D. Watts, Walker, Fleming, Alexander, Shelby, Morris, M. Watts, Richardson, McNaughton and Heflin to carry the gold and black standards of Lebanon High School through the coming tourneys.

Dover, county champs, was to be the Tigers' first foe of the tourney by virtue of their trouncing the Whites-town Panthers in the opening game of the tournament. For Lebanon the usual starting five of Alexander, Shelby, Morris, D. Watts and Walker started but were taken out and played only every other quarter. The Tigers started clicking from the first and the outcome of the game was never in question. Shelby was the highest contributor to our 76 points with 17 markers after his name.

Final score: Lebanon 76, Dover 34.

In the semifinals, the Neuman-coached team took the floor in the last matinee game against a rangy Thorntown team, who were out to scalp the Tiger boys, but the worm turned and when the basket flinging was finished the Lebanon boys were again on top by a 55 to 20 count. This victory pitted them against the Zionsville Eagles in the final game of the sectional for the second straight year.

In the final game the Tigers got away to a very slow start and were in the red until the final minute of the second quarter when some very smooth passing resulted in a score which put the Tigers in front 13 to 11.

The second half was a different story, however, and when the final gun cracked the Eagles had succumbed to hand "Butch" his tenth straight sectional triumph by a 38 to 28 count.

The Lebanon Tigers entered the Regional tourney against Freeland Park (Benton County Champs), who put a formidable array of high scorers to combat our chargers. At the half we led 26 to 16 and 40 to 31 at the three-quarter turn. With six minutes to go our Tigers still led by a margin of six points.

At this point the first five of the Tigers entered the fray to try to quell the uprising of the Freeland Parkers, but playing with reckless abandon and casting all science of this great Indiana sport to the hot March air, the red-clothed boys threw a basket barrage which did not seem to miss and after the scoring had been counted up our great Tiger team finally wrote "finish" to their State Champ dreams by virtue of this 45 to 44 setback.

Thus ended the high school playing career of five senior boys; namely, Don Watts, Bill Walker, Jack Alexander, Sonny Shelby and Karl Fleming.

SECOND TEAM

Row I—David Lallin, Charles Wheeler, Jr., Ralph Houser.
Row II—Bob Fruth, John D. Isenhour.
Row III—Basil Jeffries.

Interclass basketball in Lebanon High School ended with the Freshmen being crowned champs in the Senior high division and the 8B's winning the title in the Junior high. This was the first time in twelve years the frosh had emerged victor in interclass competition and the yearlings gave varsity basketball for the next few years a light outlook.

The Frosh finished the schedule with five wins and one loss, breaking a tie with the Seniors by dropping theirs in the final game of the tourney 26-24.

Here is the way they finished:

|                  | W | L | Pct. |
|------------------|---|---|------|
| Freshmen -----   | 5 | 1 | .833 |
| Seniors -----    | 4 | 2 | .667 |
| Juniors -----    | 2 | 4 | .333 |
| Sophomores ----- | 1 | 5 | .167 |

The Seniors elected Broshar, mgr., Moore, capt., and Alexander, coach. The Juniors chose Martin, mgr., Swope, capt., and Walker coach. Stephens, was the Sophomore mgr., Fraley the captain, and D. Watts the coach while the Freshmen elected Strohl mgr., Harrison, capt., and Shelby coach.

The 8B's went through their junior high schedule without a loss although they met stiff competition in their final game with the 8B's winning in an overtime 28-26. Here is the way they finished.

|            | W | L | Pct.  |
|------------|---|---|-------|
| 8B's ----- | 6 | 0 | 1.000 |
| 8A's ----- | 4 | 2 | .667  |
| 7A's ----- | 2 | 4 | .333  |
| 7B's ----- | 0 | 6 | .000  |

The 8A's elected Hicks mgr., Copper, capt., and Alexander coach. The champion 8B's were led by Howard, mgr., Agan capt., and M. Watts coach.

The 7A's chose Walls, mgr., Chambers capt., and Walker coach, while the 7B's elected Swails mgr., Kurtz, capt., and Morris coach.

INTERCLASS

The Lebanon second team, composed, with one exception, of freshmen and sophomores, went through their 1939-40 schedule with seven wins in fourteen games for a .500 season average. The small but speedy reserves ran up 279 points to their opponents' 257 for a game average of 19.9 points to the oppositions' 18.4 points per contest, or a game difference of 1.5 points.

The seconds scored victories over Mooresville 26-18 and Lafayette 19-16 before dropping their first game to West Lafayette 17-14 at the Purdue Fieldhouse. Before pouncing on Cathedral 28-14, they dropped a pair of games to Frankfort and Crawfordsville 20-12 and 19-10. This was followed by a 26-24 win over Elwood and a 25-16 trimming of Sheridan, but three successive defeats by Frankfort, Lapel and Shortridge then came.

The Cubs got back on the right side with wins over Delphi and Crawfordsville, but dropped an 18-16 decision at Lafayette to close their season.

Ralph Houser, Charles Wheeler, Jr. and Dave Laflin, all freshmen, were the outstanding point-getters for the Cubs. Houser garnered 79 points in fourteen games, while Laflin and Wheeler followed with 52 and 51 points, respectively. Also the defensive work of Jack Heflin, a sophomore, at the backguard post must not be overlooked. His fine work earned him a place in several varsity encounters as well as the tournament team. Charlie Richardson, a junior, joined the squad for the second semester and scored 41 points in five encounters. Rounding out the Cub roster were Basil Jefferies, John Isenhour, and Gene Thompson, sophomores, and Bob Fruth, a freshman. Although these boys did not see as much action as the rest of the team they showed plenty of fight and ability when their chances came.

With the little previous experience they possessed, the Cubs did exceptionally well in playing the type of ball they did against the high class opposition they met. Their lack of size was made up with fight and speed and their performances make the Tiger outlook optimistic for the years to come.

Row I—Bob Gaver, Carrol Richardson, Bob Myers, Dick Johnson.
Row II—Jim Pauley, Jack Hicks.

BASEBALL

Although two games were played in the spring of 1939, baseball as a regular sport in L. H. S. officially returned in the fall of 1939 when the Tigers joined the Boone County league. The nine teams in the county were divided into two divisions, Zionsville, Dover, Jamestown, Whitestown and Lebanon composing one group, and Advance, Pinnell, Perry Central and Thorntown the other. Teams played other teams in the division and the leaders in each division at the end of the season met at the local diamond to decide the county championship.

Coach Neuman's forces opened the season with a 9 to 1 win over the Dover Blue Devils at the local diamond. Walker and Holeton shared the mound duties for the Tigers, limiting their opponents to three hits, while D. Watts and Bramblett were outstanding in the hits and runs department.

Zionsville came to town next and handed the Tigers a 14-3 drubbing, solving the Lebanon pitching for fifteen safeties while the locals garnered but five safeties off Steele. Bill Walker got three of the Tigers' five bingles.

Scoring twenty-six runs on twenty hits, the locals showed their first real offensive power of the season when they slaughtered Jamestown 26 to 2. The Tigers scored runs in every inning while Holeton was holding the Little Giants to four scattered hits. Seven Tigers hit safely and D. Watts and M. Watts added home runs to climax the occasion.

For the second straight game, Neuman's boys went on a hitting spree, this time at Dover in a return game with the Blue Devils. Amassing 20 runs on as many hits, every Tiger connected for at least one hit. Holeton and D.

Watts shared the mound duty, allowing but six between them. Walker, Johnson and D. Watts were the big guns at bat, each hitting safely three times.

Although they out hit the Panthers 10 to 5, the Tigers dropped a close one to Whitestown at the winner's diamond 5 to 4. The score was tied 4 all going into the final inning with darkness prevailing. A single to right by Spangles turned into a home run and the winning run was made when the outfielders were unable to locate the ball in the semi-darkness. Holeton allowed the Panthers only five hits and struck out thirteen.

The final encounter of the schedule came with the Zionsville Eagles at Zionsville and the Tigers gained sweet revenge by swamping Coach Silver's men 20 to 6. While Don Watts was holding the Eagles to 4 hits, the locals pounded Steele for 12 hits, including a home run by Alexander.

This victory left the Tigers tied with Zionsville and Whitestown for leadership in their division and the right to meet Pinnell for the county championship. Representatives of the three schools met and decided to draw lots as the time was drawing near to start basketball preparations. Whitestown won the draw and the right to meet Pinnell. Whitestown won this tourney.

Here are some statistics on the '39 fall season: Batting percentage—Don Watts .600, Walker .579. Runs scored—Alexander 17, Don Watts 11. Hits—Don Watts 15, Walker 11. Total bases—Don Watts, 30, Walker 15. Doubles—Don Watts 5, Walker 4. Triples—Johnson 3, Don Watts 2. Home Runs—Don Watts 2, Alexander 1, Milburn Watts 1. Walks—Houser 11, Alexander 7.

A girls' basketball tournament was staged in January, having five senior girls as captains; namely, Betty Burgess, Marjorie DeMott, Eileen Broshar, Martha Jackson, and Glenrose Gayer. There was an average of seven girls to each team. Jackson's team won over Burgess' in the first game of the tournament, DeMott's defeated Gayer's in the second, Jackson's nosed out Broshar's in the third, and in the final game Jackson's team pushed over DeMott's to take the championship for 1940. Miss Kathryn Herle, girls' athletic director, very capably refereed all of the games in the tournament.

Early in the school year of '39 and '40 the girls of Lebanon High School started out in sports by having a ping-pong tournament. Out of the thirty girls that entered the tournament, Mary Stanworth and Jane Crawl played the finals, with Jane coming out on top to be crowned "Girl's Ping-Pong Champion" of the year.

At the last of the second six-weeks period a volley-ring tournament was started. About forty girls entered this tournament, which was played on every Monday after school.

The referee for this tournament was Miss Kathryn Herle, physical educational supervisor.

MAY FESTIVAL

"MISS AMERICA"
Barbara Sharpe

Under the direction of Miss Kathryn Herle, physical education instructor, the Spring Festival, held April 26, climaxed a successful year of gymnastic training.

The breathtaking moment was reached when "Miss America" ascended her throne, escorted by both a girl and boy scout. Miss Barbara Sharpe was selected to reign over the big event as "Miss America".

Over one thousand students from the grade school and all high school gym classes participated in this celebration.

The High School band, under the direction of Mr. Wayne Van Sickle assisted with the program.

CLASS PROPHECY (Con't)

form of Tom Crane. He combs the beach in search of a beautiful Hawaiian maiden.

The name of Clarence Hill is now mentioned along with those well-known artists Dä Vinci and Rembrandt. Charles VanAusdall, the inventor of a self-sweeping broom, gained his knowledge for this invention when he guided this implement along the floor in the good old days. Dorrell Holeton, now with the Chicago Cubs, has the fastest arm since the days of Dizzy Dean.

A short stop at the Black Hawk Club is enough to show us that the owner knows his stuff. The man is Joe Clifford. Betty Rogers, superintendent of a day nursery at Thorntown, is being ably assisted by Marjorie Price, Lou Ann Pearl and Letha Glendenning. Mildred Baldwin is doing her bit for humanity. She uses her experience by giving advice to the love-lorn through her correspondent's bureau.

Designing has entered the lives of two of our grads. Martha Harlos has developed a monopoly on the designing of grease-proof overalls for auto mechanics at Mechanicsburg. Emma Jean Graham, her sales manager, twists her beautiful curls in a frenzy as she tries to think of a way to get the grease monkeys to purchase them.

Filling the office of New York's garbage commissioner is the famed Joseph Kitner, while Marvin Cody is public enemy No. 1, with Bill Walker, head of the F. B. I., hot on his trail.

Our journey is near an end. The plane glides to a stop and we switch off the television dial. This brief visit into the lives of the Alumni of '40 is completed. Gee! it was fun, wasn't it?

with his head in his hands trying to figure out what it is. Paul Rummel is appearing in technicolor pictures using his blushes as stop and go signs. Following in his father's footsteps, Russell Hicks has taken over his business and is at the North Pole selling bus bodies to the Eskimos. His closest companion is his confidential secretary, Bette Ann Caldwell, who accompanies Mr. Hicks on all trips.

Thelma Smiley and Evelyn Salts are still at it. They are now operators and sponsors of an Escort Bureau. Some of the most prominent gigolos are Noble Rose, Ralph Martin and Phillip McIntyre. The restaurant business called Karl Fleming. He delights his patrons with his specialty—producing hot dogs that bark. Everett Agan recently added the Lebanon Reporter to his world-wide chain of newspapers. "You bring it in—I print it" is his motto.

The call of the wide open spaces claimed some of our more freedom loving heroes. Ben Bryan is running a ranch in Montana with Byron Bowen as his foreman while Robert Quick and Bob Hunt ride the range on their trusty steeds keeping the cattle from straying. Julia Morton and Josephine Moore pooled all their savings together to invest in the fish hatcheries at Martinsville.

Call out the Marines! Here come the leathernecks! "Left, Right. Left, Right. Mark time. Halt." Sergeant Meredith Moore calls the roll. Ernest Campbell, Here. Arlie Hamon, Here. Loel Richardson, Richardson—Has anybody seen Richardson—Yes, sir! At our last port of call he dropped off at Bali. Hmmm! Hmm-m-m, not so dumb. The soft breezes and the enchanting music of Honolulu, Hawaii, lured into its midst the heart broken
